FKA: Accolade LLC; Accolade provides an innovative employee benefit that simplifies healthcare complexity for the employees by combining science-based approach with intelligent platform technology. Each employee and their family get their own professional Accolade Health Assistant who helps them navigate the healthcare system, while data science, machine learning and natural language processing work together to identify health red flags, spending patterns, gaps in care and other trends. The personal connections that Accolade Health Assistants nurture with each family results in healthier and more productive employees, greater employee satisfaction and commitment, and significantly lower healthcare costs for their employer.
